Workers already back on the job

New owners now in charge at Dorsey Trailers

Dorsey employees working on the first shift gathered inside the plant on Thursday, March 19 to hear company officials give an updated report on the status of the sale of the local manufacturing company. New Dorsey officials told the employees of upcoming changes in policy and all employees were informed that the plant would be shut down immediately following the meeting.

The months-old talk in the area of the pending sale of Dorsey Trailers has climaxed with the official change of ownership last week. The new management team will contain a lot of faces long associated with the company and familiar to the people of Elba.

The plant officially closed last Thursday as workers completed their shifts and reported to a central area for a short announcement by then general manager Paul Morrow, and a short film presentation on the future needs and hopes of the company.

Supervisory personnel were immediately recalled and schooling began on ways to better do their jobs. Also a number of people have been in school on uses of computers and other highly specialized subjects. Hourly workers began getting calls to return to work on Monday, with production expected to resume on Thursday (today).

Dorsey Trailers, Inc., one of the nation's largest manufacturers of truck trailers, has been purchased from The Dorsey Corporation by a group of management investors. The company will continue operations under the name of Dorsey Trailers, Inc.

The announcement was made by Dorsey Trailers' new president, Marilyn R. Marks, formerly a vice president of The Dorsey Corporation.

who stated that the new ownership and management are totally committed to making Dorsey Trailers the most aggressive and successful producer and marketer of quality transportation equipment in the industry.

"Our management team is one of the strongest and most experienced in the transportation equipment industry," said Marks.

Paul King has been promoted to the position of general manager of the Elba plant, replacing Paul Morrow, who assumes a larger responsibility of corporate vice president directing the company's overall activities in the administrative area. Russell Cash has been promoted to director of Manufacturing and Engineering at the Elba plant, replacing King at that position.

Corporate offices are presently located in Montgomery, but are expected to be moved to Atlanta sometime in the future. Joe DeVane will continue to lead the sales and marketing efforts as vice-president, Sales. He is and will continue to work out of the corporate office. Roy Belcher, vice president, Engineering and Facility Planning, will continue in that position, and Bill Ayer, recently named corporate controller, will continue in that position.

Other members of the management team include William Donaldson, who joined the company as vice president, Finance. He comes from Electra Form, Inc., in Dayton, Ohio. Donaldson will be responsible for accounting, treasury, credit and data processing for the company. Also Joseph M. Flamingo, vice president, Operations, has come from Apparatus Division of General Motors, a subsidiary of Penn Central. Both Donaldson and Flamingo will work out of the corporate office.

Duane Dostie, who served a short time as manager of Manufacturing and Engineering to assume responsibilities for production manufacturing engineering and product engineering at the Elba plant. He comes to the position from where he earned a degree in mathematics. He is married to the former Janet Warr and they are the parents of four children.

King has been employed at Dorsey Trailers for 20 years, beginning as an industrial engineer. He has also served as manager of Production Control, manager of Manufacturing and Engineering to assume responsibilities for production manufacturing engineering and product engineering at the Elba plant. He comes to the position from where he earned a degree in mathematics. He is married to the former Janet Warr and they are the parents of four children.

"We intend to position Dorsey Trailers as the most customer-oriented, service-conscious company serving transportation," Marks said, "and nothing short of complete customer satisfaction with our products and service will suffice."

"We will achieve this goal on a number of fronts: first, our network of independent distributors, the largest in the trailer industry, serving our customers from coast to coast, will be afforded the necessary assistance and advantages to make them more competitive in the marketplace."

"Second, we will maintain and improve the quality reputation and integrity of every product that comes off our assembly lines by renewing our commitment to innovative research and development and strict quality control."

"And third, our present work force, the most experienced in the trailer industry, will be reorganized and provided specialized training to make them among the most productive plant employees in any industry. With higher productivity and improved efficiencies in our trailer manufacturing plants in Alabama, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, Dorsey Trailers is looking forward to exciting growth opportunities."

Council told local phone service will improve

The Elba City Council heard good news Monday evening when Jim Sullivan, president of the Alabama Public Service Commission, addressed the council and said General Telephone had agreed to upgrade the company's equipment serving the Wiregrass area. Members of the General Telephone management team were present to confirm Sullivan's statements.

Sullivan noted that complaints to his office from the area served by General Telephone were higher than normal and this caused his staff to review the operations to find the problem. He noted that they found the employees to be as highly professionally trained as any in the state; however, the equipment being used was not of the quality needed.

"Much of it has been here a long time and needs to be refurbished or replaced," Sullivan said. He injected this higher-than-expected growth in the service area recently had contributed to this problem with twice as many requests for telephones as expected to be requested by consumers.

Sullivan said the complaints from the Elba area were not as heavy as those from Andalusia, Greenville, Dothan and Abbeville areas.

Sullivan related a conversation he had had with the president of General Telephone in which he invited him to Alabama to visit these areas, and following this visit, "he knows where Elba is and where the problems are."

The PSC president said he wanted the company executives to tell the PSC and the Elba City Council at the same time just when the service will be brought up to standards.

Company representatives Bill Taylor and Ray Barley agreed with the commissioner that they would return to the Elba City Council on May 11 with a detailed plan for upgrading the system. Barley is service supervisor for the Elba and Enterprise areas for General Telephone.

The city council also discussed the proposed extension of the Elba city limits. It was agreed to hold a public hearing next Monday at 5 p.m. and to consider including all the areas proposed last year. That proposal got tangled up in the problems at the last part of the legislative session and failed to pass.

Mayor Bob English told the council that he felt strongly that people getting city services should not be opposed to being in the city limits.

Police Chief John White told the council that traffic citations continue to be high as people speed, ignore traffic signs, etc. He also told of the department's recovering some stolen property, some of which is in the police station and other in Florida waiting to be picked up.

Former Mayor Bob Folsom appeared before the council with three matters on his mind. He opposed the telephone company's closing of the local office and said it was in the original franchise that an office be maintained. English told him it had been reviewed and this statement wasn't found on the last franchise, signed while Folsom was mayor. Later Sullivan explained to the council that neither his office nor the city council had the legal right to tell General how to do business.

Folsom was also concerned over the legality of the way some streets were closed around Dorsey Trailers. Again he was told this had been rehearsed and it was legal according to Alabama law as researched by two lawyers.

Folsom also requested the council issue a resolution thanking the U.S. Army for selecting three stage fields "right in your back door." No action was taken on this.

Week of March 22-28 is

Community Education Week

Gov. Guy Hunt has proclaimed the week of March 22-28 as "Community Education Week" in Alabama. Community education began in Alabama in 1971 and since that time has grown to include programs in 50 school systems.

In 1971, a grant from the C.S. Mott Foundation of Flint, Mich., the Birmingham City and Jefferson County School Systems started the first community education programs in Alabama. The Center for Community Education at the University of Alabama at Birmingham administered the grant.

Many local school systems will feature their community education programs with varied promotional activities throughout the week.

State Supt. of Education Dr. Wayne Teague said, "During 'Community Education Week,' I salute the community education programs throughout the state."

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, March 23, at the courthouse in Elba and agreed to grant pay raises for the three circuit judges and the district attorney in the Twelfth Judicial District after hearing that a new bill would allow for the raises and at the same time bring added revenue into the county.

District Attorney Joel Folmar addressed the commission and told the group that under the county's "worthless check act" the court gets $40 service fee per check, while nothing goes to the merchant as far as service fees are concerned. A new bill would pay the court's fee to $50 and at the same time implement a $10 fee which would go to the merchant. A total of 3,500 worthless checks went through the agency last year and Folmar stated the number would increase since the agency was still in its "infancy."

The district attorney said that the merchants had to incur expenses when asked someone to court over a bad check and the merchants were entitled to some compensation. An added feature of the new bill would earmark 30 percent of the court's $50 service fee to be sent to the county's general fund, where the monies would be used to allow the commission to grant the circuit judges and the district attorney a pay raise.

Health Dept. ranks among tops

The Coffee County Health Dept. presented a detailed report on the activities of its Home Health Care division at last week's meeting of the Coffee County Commission, and the report revealed that the local department ranked third in the state in the total number of services offered in the division.

Jefferson County, the state's most populated county, headed the list of services offered and Covington County ranked second, while Coffee County was third on the list with a total of 14,727 total visits.

An in-depth look at the activities of the home health branch showed that skilled nursing care visits totaled 4,837 in 1986, while physical therapists visited 229 patients during the same calendar year.

receiving satisfactory answers approved a resolution seeking the introduction of the bill in the upcoming state legislative session.

Monday's meeting began at 9 a.m., and after the routine approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, bids were opened on three unrelated items.

Computer service for the probate judge's offices was awarded to McDill, Inc., with a 3-year bid of $28,965.80. A second bid from Computer Systems was received; however, the bid was not presented as requested, and although it was apparently the lower one, the correct bid from McDill was accepted.

The often-mentioned Farris gully will soon be a thing of the past as Russell Concrete of Elba was the only other bidder, and the bid was higher than the approved bid, even after a three percent addition for being a local company.

The other bid was on a septic tank to be placed at the Farm Center buildings to Rep. Jimmy Holley.

Shriner's Chicken Festival and all such following events. Russell Concrete of Elba was the only other bidder, and the bid was higher than the approved bid, even after a three percent addition for being a local company.

Brainstorms

By Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City Council is again considering extension of the city limits. We were for this action last year and feel the same way this year. We did hear some real concerns from affected residents, but feel most were addressed. The largest one is that the people, such as chicken farmers, who might want to add another chicken house - and after becoming part of the City of Elba their property would be zoned differently and they wouldn't be allowed to do this - possibly. We don't agree to the demand for instant, expensive sewer lines, however. What we do believe is that there should be some verbal - at least - promise that when funds are acquired for sewer extensions, these areas not presently served will be given first priority. We know that ain't legally binding, but still believe in an honorable person doing the honorable thing. Also, if a person is a resident of Elba, they can help me elect those who will lead our city in the future - and that ain't a bad privilege to have!

We disagree with the move by the Coffee County Commission to raise the pay of the district attorney and judges by $7,000 each. We have added judges and an assistant district attorney in recent years, thus dropping the workload. We already add $7,000 a year to their state pay, giving each over $50,000 a year. It won't make them ultra rich, but it will hold until that sweet retirement plan they have goes to work. Frankly, we see some of the workers of these officials who need and deserve raises more than the elected officials themselves. We also have some concern over the money coming from bad check fines. Some of those who pay these fines are the most needy people in our community and they badly need that extra ten dollars to feed their children. If we are going to charge $50 fine on bad checks, let's put the extra $10 into some sort of rehab plan that might cure those who give bad checks and refuse to - or can't - make them good.

We are personally excited over the prospects of success with the new Dorsey Trailers. We have watched, listened and been noisy as the moves developed and have a positive attitude about the prospects. We feel Dorsey Trailers is already a stronger company because of the idea of adapting to the changing world. We were invited to be present when the employees were given the film presentation last week; we watched the film twice, and the second time made a few observations. One was the number of times the narrator used the word, "change," or some form of it. We counted 48 times. Now that could be off a bit, because we kept analyzing other parts also, but it was a bunch of times. The message was and is to all of us: "If you don't change with the world, you will get left behind." That applies to any business we might be engaged in today.

These TV preachers are giving us plenty to talk about these days, and it ain't getting any better... in fact it is getting from "differences of opinion" down to "competing with the soap opera." One has apparently gotten all he needs to keep from being "called home." Another has admitted a motel trip with a woman other than his wife; his wife has admitted to being addicted to drugs. What is next? We don't know, but feel the shakeout will be good for religion in the long run. Maybe folks will keep more of their support at home now... with the preacher that will hold their hand and minister to them in their darkest hours.

We don't get upset much with Jim Bakker with his admission of being unfaithful to his wife. That has happened since history has been recorded, and will happen again somewhere. We are a bit more upset that he gave in to blackmail, and mad at his original claim that it wasn't his fault but was caused by former friends. Now that shows a bad weakness in him - first for giving in to the temptation, and then for blaming it on someone else! Of course the latest story is that he did it at a time when his marriage was having problems and he wanted to make his wife jealous! However, there ain't nothing in the Bible he preaches from that makes that even a little bit okay. It doesn't matter if the woman was his neighbor's wife or maid-servant... the Ten Commandments instruct that TV preacher and me "not to covet." Now for the story that other TV preachers were planning a "takeover" - that isn't very Christian either. By golly, these folks need to all sit down and let us tell them how to run their business and there won't be any of this trash in the news.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Honored On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stevens celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Feb. 22, at the Zion Chapel Baptist Church, hosted by their children.

Rev. Ben Amlog gave a brief history of the couple's life together and Mrs. Debbie Smith of Troy sang "The Love That Lasts a Lifetime."

The couple's children and their families were presented to the congregation while Mrs. Smith sang "Thank You for These Special Gifts."

Immediately following the ceremony guests were invited to the reception in the fellowship hall, which was decorated with green plants in brass plant stands and yellow mums in brass pots.

The registry table was covered with a gold satin cloth encircled with gold lace and held a brass vase with yellow and gold flowers. Also on the table was a Golden Anniversary book. Mrs. Wayne Rugs, Mrs. Stevens' sister, presided at the table.

The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens; their son Jimmy D. Stevens, Huntsville; daughters June Brown, Elba; Anne Boothe, Troy; and an "adoptive" daughter, Tita Johnson, Montgomery.

The anniversary cake table was covered with a gold satin cloth and overlaid with white lace. Gold bows, gold flowers and greenery graced the corners and center of the table. The centerpiece was the three-tiered cake, made by daughter Anne Boothe.

The cake was adorned with yellow spun-sugar roses, with yellow satin bells nestled in white lace on top. A golden numeral 50 was placed between the first and second tiers. Cutting and serving the cake was Mrs. Shirley Dean, Mrs. Stevens' sister.

The refreshment table was covered with a gold satin cloth edged in gold lace. A huge arrangement of yellow and gold flowers arranged in a woven brass basket dominated the center of the table. Brass candelabra holding burning white tapers accented each end of the table and brass trays held nuts, mints and cheese straws. Punch was served from a brass punch bowl. Mrs. Stevens' sisters, Mrs. Maude Johnson, Mrs. Agnes Chancellor and Mrs. Nell Wilson presided at the refreshment table.

Receiving and displaying cards and gifts were the couple's granddaughters: Cheryl Stevens, Huntsville; Missy Boothe, Troy; and Laura Brown, Elba. Mr. Stevens' sisters, Mrs. Gladys Mae White of Hattiesburg, Miss., and Mrs. Audra Barker of Dothan were among the 175 guests which registered during

News From Faith Chapel

"Therefore I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and they shall have them." [Mark 11:24].
True faith counts on God, and believes before it sees. Naturally, we want some evidence that our petition is granted before we believe, but when we walk by faith we need no other evidence than God's Word. He has spoken and according to our faith it shall be done unto us. We shall try places, when everything around us seems to contradict God's Word.

The psalmist says, "I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living." [Psalm 138:8]. He did not see as yet the Lord's answer to his prayers, but he "believed to see" and this kept him from fainting.
If we have faith that believe, it will keep us from growing discouraged. We shall "laugh at impossibilities," we shall wait with delight to see how God is going to open up a path through the "Red Sea" when there is no human way out of difficulty.

It is just in such places of severe testing that our faith grows and strengthens. "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, remove hence to yonder place, and it shall be moved, and nothing shall be impossible unto you." [Matt. 17:20]. It is possible to call all our care upon Him daily and to enjoy deep peace in doing it.

It is possible to see the will of God in everything, and to receive it, not with sighing, but with singing.
Have you been waiting upon God? During long nights and weary days, have you feared that you were forgotten? Nay, life up your head, and begin to praise Him even now for the deliverance which is on its way to you. Bind this comfort to your heart, that the Savior has tried for Himself all the experiences through which He asks you to pass; and He would not ask you to pass through them unless He was sure that they were not too difficult for your feet, or too trying for your strength. May God bless you - until next week. Pd. Adv.

ANSWERS TO YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS

QUESTION: What is "Secular Humanism"?

BOB PRICHARD

The basic idea of the philosophy of humanism, which had its historical roots in the middle ages, was that emphasis should be placed on man and what he may accomplish. It was not at first necessarily anti-God, but was instead pro-man. It was concerned with this life, without necessarily denying the life to come. This has all changed, however, with what has been defined as "Secular" (or worldly) "Humanism."

Secular Humanism is a philosophy of life that emphasizes man and his potential, while at the same time denying the reality of deity and the supernatural. According to Secular Humanism, man is the ultimate authority in ALL matters. Man is not the height of creation, but is the highest product of the blind forces which brought the cosmos into existence. Man is totally the captain of his own fate, and all values must be derived from man himself.

The basic statements of the philosophy of Secular Humanism are the Humanist Manifesto I, written in 1933, and the Humanist Manifesto II, written in 1973. Both documents were signed and approved by a number of leading scientists, educators, philosophers, and liberal theologians. Both of these documents are atheistic, containing statements such as, "As nontheists, we began with humans not God, nature not deity," and "Humans are responsible for what we are or will become. No deity will save us; we must save ourselves."

Secular Humanism is diametrically opposed to the Bible. The Humanist Manifestos deny the deity of God and Jesus Christ, the inspiration of the Bible, the existence of the afterlife, and the reality of sin, salvation, heaven, hell, and creation by God. They uphold the idea that there are no distinct roles for male and female, homosexuality and fornication, that abortion is a woman's absolute right, and that evolution is an accomplished fact.

Concerning the ethics by which man should live, the Humanist Manifesto II states, "Ethics is autonomous and situational, needing no theological or ideological sanction. Ethics stems from human need and interest." This idea that there is no absolute in moral and ethical issues (such as an inspired Bible), means in reality that ANYTHING is right if someone thinks it is. This philosophy is often promoted through teaching children "values clarification," or "value-free" education, in which children are taught that they themselves are the ultimate authority in right and wrong.

The wise man Solomon said, "there is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death" (Prov. 14:12). Secular Humanism, in its teaching that man is the measure of all things, is a way of death.

Where Did You Go On Spring Break

"Hey, where did you go?" "Oh, I went to Georgia." "I went to Florida."

Well, I went to California! Wherever we students and teachers may have roamed over spring break, I think we all had a good time, and it was hard for everyone to get back to school and down to basics. We all wanted to just sit around and discuss our week. But the faculty gave us a little help in realizing that AEA was over and school and work were back. Thanks a lot, teachers!

I think the main thing on everyone's mind right now though is the simple fact that there are only 45 days left in school! So, with that in mind, maybe we can keep ourselves going a little while longer!

Good luck students!

Susan Farmer Receives Job With Marching Auxiliaries

SUSAN LEE FARMER is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farmer. She is an Elba High School senior who has been very active in the band for a total of eight years.

Susan has served in the marching band for five years, colorguard for four years, colorguard captain for the 1985-86 marching season, and a member of the band council.

She recently was honored by the Marching Auxiliaries of America with a job wherein she will serve as colorguard instructor for their 1987 summer camp program. Their national headquarters is based in Dallas, Texas, but Susan will have the opportunity to travel all over the United States from the first of June until August. She will work at camp Monday - Thursday, and Friday - Sunday she will travel to her next camp and start all over again.

We wish Susan the best of luck with her new job -- and try not to forget your way home, Susan!

Elba Students Tour Alabama Electric Plant

Ten eleventh-grade students from Elba High School had an exciting day recently when they toured Alabama Electric Cooperative's headquarters and the Tombigbee power plant. They were awarded the trip for their achievement in the Washington Youth Tour Essay competition.

The ten first round finalists making the trip were Scotty Cole, Tabitha Bryan, Linda Brooks, Danette Boggan, Beth Henderson, Michelle Hobbs, Jamie Morrow, Amy Ross, Gina Young and Chris Wilson.

On the trip the students were acquainted with the operations of an electric cooperative, careers in cooperatives and the difficulties in generating the electricity needed by everyone.

For the past six years AEA has provided a week-long expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. for students located in the co-op's four area municipalities, which includes Andalusia, Elba, Opp and Pike County high school students.

To qualify for the youth tour program, students must write essays on short stories on rural electrification.

Two semi-finalists from each school were chosen as well as the ten first-round finalists. The two from Elba are Beth Henderson and Chris Wilson, and they will travel to Montgomery for the annual meeting of the Alabama Rural Electric Association. They will also be given tours of historic sites.

Elba's two students along with two from each of the other schools, will then compete in an oral interview competition at AEA headquarters in Andalusia in April.

From this final round of competition two representatives will be awarded an expense-paid trip to Washington where they will join other students from around the country for tours and seminars in the nation's capital.

Rev. David Richburg recently visited Zion Chapel and presented a program to the high school students about the dangers of drugs, alcohol and smoking. Rev. Richburg opened the program by discussing the effects of alcohol on the body. He said, "Every time you take even the smallest amount of alcohol you kill thousands of brain cells." The danger of killing so many of these cells is that they do not reproduce.

Rev. Richburg also discussed the various types of diseases of the throat, stomach, intestines and liver which are caused by alcohol. He also said that drinking alcohol can increase your chances of heart attack. He also talked about the dangers of smoking and chewing tobacco. "People who smoke and chew tobacco are causing very serious damage to their health," he said. He talked about the various types of cancer which are caused by using tobacco. Chewing tobacco causes cancer of the mouth and tongue, while smoking tobacco causes cancer of the lungs.

Rev. Richburg closed the program with a discussion about various drugs and the effects of these drugs on the body. He said the people who use drugs soon become addicted and this addiction destroys the person who uses the drug. People who use drugs often steal to get money to buy more drugs.

Drug users cause serious danger to their bodies both mentally and physically. Cocaine destroys the soft bone tissue of the nose and also causes a mental deterioration. These people can become careless about how they look or act and may eventually even commit suicide.

Drugs that are injected by needles add another problem. The disease AIDS can be spread by using a needle of an infected person.

Rev. Richburg said he hopes his talk will help students to stay away from drugs, alcohol and to "just say no."

NECESSITIES OF LIFE
By: CAMILLE MARLER

Jewelry, cars, hairstyles and makeup are all valued highly by teenagers today. But have you ever wondered about the history of these "necessities of life?"

People of ancient times created beautiful jewelry by using simple tools and the skill of their own hands. The Egyptians placed great importance on jewelry as part of their burials. The ancient Greeks used metal for most of their jewelry designs, often craftsmanship by the Romans, who used a lot of gems in their jewelry.

The first self-propelled road vehicle was built in 1769 by Nicolas Joseph Cugnot, a French army captain. Powered by steam, this three-wheeled contraption was used for hauling cannon and could travel about three miles per hour, having to stop every ten or fifteen minutes to build up steam. Steam-powered vehicles that could carry passengers today's cars were invented in 1885 by Gottlieb Daimler and Karl Benz of Germany.

Hairstyles were of great interest to many cultures. The Egyptians curled their hair and pinned it, and also made long, black wigs. Before wearing short hair, Greek men gathered their hair in knots on the top of their heads. The Romans wore blonde wigs imported from Germany, and many women dyed their hair and sprinkled it with gold dust.

Makeup has been around for over 50,000 years. Red clay, mud and yellow arsenic were used by Neanderthal men. Egyptians used henna for their hair, nails and feet. A poisonous substance was used for 2,000 years, and caused facial tremors, muscle paralysis and even death.

Jewelry, cars, hairstyles and makeup have been valued by humankind for years. Each has changed and will continue to change through the creativity of the many different cultures around the world.

PINEY WOODS ARTS FESTIVAL
By: SHARON POPE

Are you artistic in the field of painting, prints, drawing, fiber, sculpture, photography, crafts, fantasy or woodwork? If so, then you can display your artistic talent at Piney Woods Arts Festival and Quilt Show.

The Coffee County Arts Alliance is planning its 13th annual Piney Woods Arts Festival and Quilt Show for April 4 and 5 on the campus of Enterprise State Junior College. As in previous years the hours for Saturday will be 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and Sunday 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. There will be a special category for students - grades 7 - 12, including Special Education students.

It is required that all work be original, created by the artist. Framing is desirable but not required; however, adequate mounting and a method of hanging is required. Work received through the schools are eligible for cash prizes, and students entering individuals must pay an entry fee and follow regulations for non-students.

Students will be responsible for getting their work to Enterprise State Junior College and hanging it in place for judging at 10 a.m. Saturday, and displays should stay in place until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Cash prizes range from $10 for Award of Distinction and second place, to $25 for Best in Show.

If you have questions or concerns, call Carol McCrady, chairperson, between the hours of 6 - 10 p.m. at 247-5616.

Registration forms may be picked up at the office.

JUST WHEN YOU THOUGHT AEA WAS JUST FOR STUDENTS
Lisa Dyess - Brenda Mobley

After finding out that the majority of the student body went to the beach during their Alabama Education Association (AEA) week, we decided to find out what the faculty did.

We started out with our principal, Mr. Nelson Whitehurst, who said, "I worked here at school all day Monday and Tuesday, and part of Thursday and Friday. I went fishing twice to catch two bass and some drum. I worked some in my yard and garden, and finally I got up early a couple of mornings to go several places to see if I could hear some turkeys gobble."

Our guidance counselor, Pat Taylor, went to north Georgia on a camping trip for two days. He spent the remainder working in his yard.

Mr. Bob Andrews, assistant principal, said he did some yard work, which was very much needed. He and his sons also enjoyed Mrs. Bryan's pond. He says he caught all the fish.

Mrs. Rachel Bryan said that both she and her husband were sick the whole week. Finally, on Friday she went shopping and bought some new accessories for her home. Saturday she went fishing, but caught nothing but small fish. Therefore the Bryan family had hot dogs for supper.

Mrs. Rhonda Brunson went quite a distance from home. "I went to Cancun, Mexico," she said. "I turned off my brain, ate too much, and soaked up the sun. I attempted to try out my Spanish with varying degrees of success. I liked it so much that my husband and I are going back!"

Mrs. Marsha Oggs told us, "My mother-in-law and father-in-law were on vacation, so I worked at the drugstore Monday through Wednesday. I spent Thursday trying to talk my children out of going to the beach. Needless to say, I spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Panama City Beach freezing. But I wasn't alone - I saw several students."

"I spent Monday with two precious babies - Morgan and Macon Hodge," said Mrs. Herbert. "Tuesday and Wednesday I spent doing heavy cleaning, washing walls, cleaning an oven, and cleaning out cabinets. The rest of the week I just relaxed, where to begin! I guess it will be best to start with Monday. On this windy day I got all morning at the hospital with a friend who had a beautiful baby boy. When I got home that day, Morgan (my daughter) had been feeling bad and had a fever. On Tuesday I kept the friend's 2 1/2-year-old daughter, my 11 1/2-month-old son, and my 4 1/2-year-old daughter. That afternoon I finally had to take Morgan to the doctor got dressed (which is a real trip with three small children), and I went back to Cohan to nephews came home with me to spend the night on Wednesday.

"Thursday I had to get a permanent haircut. Luckily my nephews have a golden touch when it comes to my children, so at least they didn't scream through the entire ordeal.

"Things got better on Friday, though, because I had to be in Troy by 10:30 a.m. (with two dressed children) to see - who else but the doctor? Macon (my son) had an appointment for a re-check, and since Morgan was still sick they did another throat culture. As you can see, I had a real fun week! I realize now why I was looking forward to AEA - I should've gone to the convention!"

Mrs. Gale Jackson said she worked in her new home trying to get it ready to move in. She and her family also worked in the yards trying to prepare for summer.

As you have seen, not all teachers went on trips. When we asked Mrs. Sylvia Lowery she said, "I enjoyed the beautiful spring and the beautiful solitude."

Mr. Charles Smith had the same experience. He said he spent his week working around the house doing things that were long overdue.

Coach Dennis Dean really got into spending money. He bought a new truck and attempted to try it out at the beach.

We decided good coaches always have their minds on sports. Even though head coach Tom Moates had a vacation, he spent half the week at the fieldhouse preparing for football spring training. The second half he spent in Enterprise trying to get his house ready to rent. He said even though it was a lot of work he enjoyed being away for a few days.

Coach Wayne Holley also kept his mind on sports. He said, "I went to the basketball games at the state tournament in Auburn to begin the AEA holiday. I spent two days at the beach in Panama City and played some golf and tennis."

SAY NOPE TO DOPE
By: DIANE PARKER

"Say Nope to Dope" is a campaign sponsored by Charter Woods Hospital. The campaign is being held for the continuing prevention and intervention efforts aimed toward substance-abusing adolescents.

Charter Woods will be providing anti-drug videos free of charge to interested schools and school systems. They will also provide "Say Nope to Dope" T-shirts and buttons for distribution in each of the schools. In addition, Charter Woods is sponsoring a free training workshop for educators.

The workshop was held Thursday, March 18, from 1:30 - 4:00 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria, and the following topics were discussed: signs and symptoms of chemical use and dependency, aftercare and follow-up, and thoughts and personal experiences from recovering adolescents and parents.

ALABAMA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION
By: ASTRID BLASCHKA

Alabama Education Association (AEA) held their annual meeting in Birmingham March 9-13. While the AEA was busy working, students enjoyed a week-long break from school. The Rebel newspaper decided to find out how some of 2C's students spent their spring vacation, and of those interviewed, some stayed home and relaxed while others worked. A few people went to the Rattlesnake Rodeo in Opp and others went to Montgomery for the Southeastern Livestock Exposition Rodeo. The most popular spot for 2C students was the beach.

U.S. Constitution Is Topic Of Nationwide Essay

By: SHEILA RUGG

"Don you realize, our United States Constitution is 200 years old?"

To celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Constitution, the U.S. Dept. of Education is sponsoring an essay project entitled, "What the Constitution Means to Me and Our Country."

This project invites students in grades one through eight across the nation to write an essay citing the importance and the meaning of the Constitution to the individual and to the country. It may also give our younger scholars an opportunity to practice and refine writing skills.

Throughout the selection process, the essays are grouped into four grade clusters: 1 and 2, 3 and 4, 5 and 6, and 7 and 8. Each state education agency, using its own selection committee and process, chooses its designated number of public school essays and transmits them to the U.S. Dept. of Education in Washington, D.C.

Each state selects representative essays equal to twice its Congressional delegation. After selecting two exemplary essays from each of the four grade clusters, the state selection committee selects two additional essays from whichever grade cluster it chooses, for a total of ten.

By April 17 all representative essays are sent to Washington for final review by another selection committee, which selects 150 which are judged to be good, representative essays.

Criteria on which the essays are judged in the final review include understanding of the topic, clarity of expression, unity of ideas, originality and style and mechanics.

The 150 essays will be sent to Washington, D.C. for appropriate awards and recognition medals, and the essays will be assembled and printed in a book. The book will contain the names and schools of all the essayists whose writings were reviewed by the national selection committee. A leather-bound copy of the book, signed by each of the final essayists will be placed in a federal deposit.

All elementary schools are invited to participate. All entries must be written, 250 words or less, on an official entry form, and sent to:

Laura Brown Places In Dance Competition

By: CHERYL FAISON

ZC fifth-grader Laura Brown, a student of the Jen-Deb School of Dance in Enterprise, placed in the Dance Olympics competition held in New Orleans. She and her dance partner Sally Wilkerson of Enterprise won first place in the duo-trio division (12 and under) of the contest that was held Jan. 13 - Feb. 1.

They will now enter national competition in Kansas City, Mo., in Washington, D.C.

Spring training has begun at Zion Chapel and Coach Tom Moates said that fundamentals will be stressed through the next three weeks.

"We are in a crisis period," Coach Moates stated. "With only eight returning juniors and seniors, the team will lack size, speed and experience."

Coach Moates is very excited about the weight training program he and Mr. Lanny Shepard are developing and hopes team members get excited about the daily workouts.

With most of the players being underclassmen, spring training will consist mostly of fundamentals with very little scrimmaging.

We have 30 days to get 15 days of practice in, so on rainy days and Fridays the team only lifts weights," Coach Moates said.

July 6-9.

At Mobile in the Showstopper National Talent competition Laura and Sally also were selected as best overall under 12-year-old duo-trio group.

This summer Laura and other students from Jen-Deb will go to New York for classes and sightseeing.

Laura and her dance-mates will be having several fundraisers for their trip to New York, including bake and garage sales, yard-raking and babysitting.

Laura has been dancing for eight years. Her dance teachers are Jennifer Wilkerson and Debra Boyd. Laura's training involves acrobatic lessons on Monday nights and dance lessons on Tuesday nights.

She is the 11-year-old daughter of Tom and June Brown.

Talk about having a bad week! Last Monday I went to the doctor with a backache; then on Thursday I had a wreck and banged up both the car and my legs, and on Friday I put my wife into the hospital with a number of ailments. I haven't felt good for a couple of weeks with a nagging head cold, and feel just about as bad as my wife -- but at least a new week has started and maybe we'll get to at least enjoy it a little!

TIGERS PUT ON SHOW AT BLACK AND GOLD GAME

The Elba Tigers put an end to spring football practice last week with the annual Black and Gold intrasquad game, and although the game ran a little long it was definitely worth watching! The Gold team was the favorite because of a number of front-line players, but the outcome of the game doesn't really matter because the fans come to watch the new Tigers and don't really care who wins the game. There were several players who stood out in the game, and the most noticeable was quarterback Jason Johnson, who led the Gold squad with an uncanny ability to run when pressured and hit open receivers. Jason was supposed to be a candidate for the quarterbacking chores last season, only to lose valuable time due to a series of injuries, but the senior-to-be showed a lot of athletic ability in the spring game and should be a very valuable part of the Tiger offense next season both running and passing.

Another player on the Gold team that was hard to miss was Troy Sanders, a 6'3", 260-lb. All-State performer a year ago as a junior. Sanders played both ways in the game and dominated action in the line like a major college prospect is supposed to. Sanders has been highly touted for a couple of years and this year could show everyone just how good a player he really is! Other players on the Gold squad that caught my eye were Troy Kelley (a speedy receiver with good hands), Brian Free (a junior-to-be with both the size and ability to be a true blue chipper), Robert Wilson (the Tigers' starter last year until sidelined by an injury, who has all the tools to be a good runner), and Anthony Brooks (an upcoming sophomore with the physical tools to be one of the best ever at Elba). The Black team came out on the short end of the 20-0 score, but that doesn't mean the Black squad was without talented players. Probably the most noticeable was linebacker Jason Hodge, a returning starter with the desire and ability to be as good as any player in the state in the 3A rank! Other players I watched Friday included Wade Hart (a youngster with all the tools to be a dominating force in the line), Reggie Horstead (the last of the Horsteads, with the same athletic ability as his famous brothers), Leon Coleman (an upcoming junior with the heart to take on the world and the talent to start in the high school ranks), and Kevin Matthews (an upcoming sophomore quarterback with enough talent to start at many schools).

Looking back at the game as a whole, it looks like the Elba Tigers will be just as good as ever if the youngsters can come around in a hurry and the veterans will step forward and provide the leadership needed. Elba could be a little weak in the offensive line, but appear solid in the backfield and specialty spots. Over on defense the Tigers appear to be in good shape with a number of returnees and several potentially outstanding players. It may very well take a couple of games to get everything settled, but once the Tigers put it all together -- watch out!!!

IT SHOULD BE A FINAL FOUR SHOOTOUT

A couple of teams I was pulling for to make the final four in the NCAA tournament will be watching at home like me; however, the final four teams are all very exciting squads and should put on quite a show in New Orleans!

Luverne To Sponsor Men's C & D Softball Tourney April 4

The Luverne Recreation Dept. will sponsor a Church D and C softball tournament at the Luverne Municipal Park Saturday, April 4.

Entry fee is $35 per team and teams pay $7 for each game played for umpires. Teams need to furnish their own restricted flight Blue Dot ball. Home runs will be the same as singles.

Trophies will be awarded to the top four finishers with individual trophies given to the first place team.

Church team managers may enter their team by contacting Jim R. Morgan, director, at 335-3103 days or 335-3021 nights.

Providence has the outside shooting and the pressing defense to make any game interesting, while Syracuse has a lot of talent and seems to find ways to win. Indiana is the most respected squad in the field with a number of quality players and the "General," Coach Bob Knight, and of course you've also got the Runnin' Rebels from Nevada-Las Vegas with the three-point shooters and the game's most aggressive defense. My two favorite teams out of the four are Indiana and Nevada-Las Vegas, which play each other in the first round, so at least I'll get to pull for one team in the finals.

All the Alabama fans were shocked about the way the Tide got shelved by a supposedly outmanned Providence squad; however, after the Friars took care of Georgetown in the finals of the Regional, the Bama fans felt a little better about not making it to the final four. Alabama had a very good team and could have battled well in New Orleans; unfortunately, the Tide ran head-first into a red-hot college team and had to settle for the memories of better days. Despite the loss it was quite a year for Coach Wimp Sanders and his Tide, and a year that will never be forgotten!

IN CLOSING

I know this week's column is a little shorter than in weeks past, but I'm ready to hit the sack and will close with a report on the new spring games that have been played around the area. Defending state 6A champ easily disposed of Johnson, and it looks like the Lee Generals will once again be the team to beat. Enterprise rolled over Eufaula, Ozark pounded Greenville and Pike County defeated Daleville. The new spring games created less interest than expected and may prove to be a one-year fad.

Coaches Needed For Elba Youth Teams

Coaches are needed for Minor League baseball and Girls Softball Leagues in Elba. Both leagues are scheduled to start their seasons in Anyone wishing to coach a team in either league should contact Recreation Director Dennis Smith at city hall - 897-2333.

Turkey Hunters Urged To Be Cautious

Donald Benson, 61, was walking down a clear logging road when a hunter in the adjoining woods mistook him for a turkey and fired. Benson, struck in the stomach and chest, still had only limited use of his left arm when an Alabama Conservation Enforcement officer filed an investigation report in May.

Turkey hunter Burgess White did bring home the turkey he had set out for early one March morning.

Neither did 44-year-old Melvin Douglas nor his 19-year-old son Arthur, Burgess did aim and fire at a turkey he thought was a turkey, hit Melvin and Arthur, putting both father and son in the hospital. The turkey hunting accidents described above are true -- only the names were changed. Both were taken from accident reports made by Alabama Dept. of Conservation Enforcement officers. A review of Alabama's 1984-85 and 1985-86 hunting accidents reveals that one factor caused more than a third of all hunting accidents: Victim mistaken for game. More than a third of those "victim mistaken for game" accidents were fatal. Game and Fish Division's Hunter Education coordinator James W. Thornhill says, "We've experienced one of the state's safest hunting seasons so far -- let's keep it that way! Most hunters this season have become accustomed to being alerted by the use of hunter orange, but that won't be the case during turkey season," Thornhill says. "Most turkey hunters will be wearing camouflage and imitating turkey calls. All hunters should exercise even greater efforts to positively identify their targets." That means each hunter must make certain his target is an actual turkey -- not something that sounds like a turkey or some movement in the brush.

This turkey season, bring home a trophy, not a tragedy. Identify your target positively before you shoot.

Golds Blank Blacks 20-0 In Elba Spring Football Game

BLACK AND GOLD ACTION... Black quarterback Kevin Matthews rolls out during action in last week's Black and Gold intrasquad game. The annual clash ended spring training at Elba High School.

The Elba Tigers divided up into the Black and Gold last week for the annual Black and Gold intrasquad game and the Golds took advantage of numerous Black turnovers to post an impressive 20-0 win.

The Black team threatened first in the game, and behind the passing of Kevin Matthews moved to a first down at the Gold 42-yardline, only to fumble the 38 and see the drive stop when Jason Johnson recovered the loose ball.

The Gold squad made its first drive of the game late in the first quarter and marched to the Black 40 behind the running of Robert Wilson and the passing of Jason Johnson to Brian Free; however, the Black defense tightened, and when Black linebacker Jason Hodge hit Wilson for a loss on fourth down the drive was halted.

It appeared the half would end in a scoreless tie as the Gold team took over at its own 16-yardline with 7:09 left on the clock, but the Golds suddenly came to life and a 66-yard scamper by Robert Wilson put his team at the Black 15-yardline. Jason Johnson got the touchdown two plays later on an 8-yard run, and although the p.a.t. failed the Golds had the lead at 6-0 with 4:26 left in the half.

Gold linebacker Keith Smith recovered a Black fumble at the Black 37-yardline with 3:43 left in the half, and the Gold team took advantage of the turnover to quickly add to its lead. The Golds moved to the Black 13-yardline behind the running of Robert Wilson, Jason Johnson and Anthony Brooks, and then overcame a major distance penalty with a 17-yard pass from Johnson to Troy Kelley that moved the ball to the 3-yardline.

Brooks scored on the next play and with :16 left in the half the Gold lead was up to 12-0.

The Black team gambled on a fourth-down-and-3 near midfield late in the third quarter in an attempt to get back in the game; however, the gamble failed and the Gold team took over and promptly drove downfield for the game's final touchdown.

The drive was sparked by the running of Robert Wilson and Anthony Brooks and it was Wilson who notched the score on a 5-yard jaunt with 2:38 left in the game. Troy Kelley added the two-point conversion and the Golds had the lead and the win 20-0.

Robert Wilson gained 116 yards to pace the Gold ground attack that churned out 197 yards, while Anthony Brooks added 42. Pacing the Gold team on defense were Jason Johnson, Troy Sanders, Kevin Caldwell and Gappa Wise.

Reggie Horstead gained 37 yards to lead the Black team, while leading the team on defense were Jason Hodge, Rex Messick, Leon Coleman, Keith Rodgers, Wade Hart and Lonnie Dixon.

KELLEY PULLS IN PASS... Gold receiver Troy Kelley (28) pulls in a pass to set up a touchdown in last week's Black and Gold game at Elba High School. The Gold squad won the contest 20-0.

How can you count on great claims service?

No problem.

Many may say they have great claims service. Only some can prove it. Auto-Owners polled their customers, and found almost all of them are satisfied with Auto-Owners Claims Service. (Nobody's perfect, but we're trying.)

So right now there is a great effort to please the few that aren't and to continue the "common sense" approach to settlements that made Auto-Owners so popular in the first place.

See your Auto-Owners agent. Because although there are many that say they have great claims service, Auto-Owners works harder every day to prove it.

PREPARING CLOTHES FOR CHANGE IN SEASON

With the warm weather lately, you may be getting that old spring fever itch. It's a good time to get out your spring wardrobe and start storing winter clothes.

When making the transformation, weed out those seldom-worn garments. Mend garments that need it and remember to store only clean clothes. Both natural fibers such as wool and silk and synthetics such as polyester can be attacked by moth larvae if they are soiled with food.

Store garments in boxes, bags or other containers that can be tightly sealed. Don't use plastic bags because moisture can build up, which invites mildew and discoloration. For long-term storage, wrap items in old sheets or muslin to protect them from the acid in cardboard and wood.

Clean and polish shoes and boots. Have them resoled or re-heeled if necessary. Then stuff them with a tissue paper to preserve their shape and store in boxes.

FASHION REVUE CAMP

When I say Della Ellis is a "model" 4-H'er, I mean exactly that. Della, from Enterprise, is one of about 50 teenagers attending the state 4-H Fashion Revue Camp March 27-29. She was the state Fashion Revue winner last year, going to Chicago for national competition.

At the camp, the 4-H'ers will practice their fashion modeling skills, and learn creative sewing and fitting techniques.

Other workshops at the conference include skin care and sun protection, health and fitness, and sewing for pay. The 4-H Fashion Revue Camp will be at the state 4-H Center near Columbiana.

Round & About

With Eria

Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led. Wherefore, I give you to understand that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed, and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord. And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.
